

SURE - HE - GETS - IT.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 6, 1892.
THE WORLD, box 2,354, New York City.
Inclosed you will find eight estimates, for which you will kindly remit that $500 on Jan. 8.

Sincerely,
W. NORMAN RITCHIE,
80 Chandler street.

PRICE ONE CENT.

BROOKLYN EDITION OF THE SUN-DA-Y WORLD.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1892.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

DID HE KILL ELLEN?

Arrest of a Man Suspected of Miss Newton's Murder.

He Is James Meyers, Son of the Intelligence Office-Keeper.

Coroner Draws Pushing Investigation of the Girl's Death.

Mr. VERNON, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The arrest of the suspected murderer of pretty Ellen Newton, whose dead body was found in Eastchester Creek, at Invermore-by-the-Sea last Monday afternoon, which was predicted in yesterday's Evening World, was made at midnight last night by Coroner's Detective Jere Moore, upon a warrant issued by Coroner Fred Woods.

The name of the suspect is James Meyers, twenty-two years old, a son of the woman who kept the intelligence office on First street, this city, near the post-office, where Ellen went to secure a situation and where she was last seen alive about 1 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

Detective Moore says the Coroner has a wonderfully strong case against Meyers, who has a rather unsavory record here. His apprehension was due to his own talk Monday night, when he was very drunk. He prolonged his debauch Tuesday, taking all day yesterday to sleep off the effects.

Three different men told the Coroner that Meyers had told them that if he had a mind to kill a girl, he knew about the matter. It would take a feather out of some one's cap.

These remarks led the Coroner to investigate, and as a result Meyers was arrested, the warrant alleging that he is suspected of being the cause of the death of Ellen Newton by supposing violence and criminal assault.

Meyers is a big, strapping fellow, who weighs about 200 pounds. He is a painter by trade, but seldom works.

His mother supports him. He has served two or three terms in the county jail at White Plains, once for assaulting an Italian man, and once for beating his mother. He was picked up in a trouble about a girl at New Rochelle about a year ago, but his mother succeeded in getting him out.

Since his arrest Meyers has said nothing except that he was innocent.

He says he was in company with James Bruce, a cousin on Fulton street, all day Monday.

Bruce told an Evening World reporter this morning that he saw Meyers Monday, but not until after 4 o'clock, half an hour after the girl's body was discovered.

Both the men are colored. They were arrested at Pugsley's house, beyond New Rochelle, in the company of a white man, named Robert Flynn. One is Joseph Pugsley, twenty-eight years old, and the other is Walter Langford, aged 30.

Both have been hanging around Invermore every day this week, including Monday. When the detective went to Invermore yesterday afternoon the colored men saw him and ran hastily into Ira Brown's saloon on the corner of Eastchester and Fulton streets, where they were hiding.

Through saloon-keeper Brown the detectives traced them to New Rochelle. Pugsley was said to be a desperate character and vicious, lunged at Detective Moore's throat. He was overpowered and promptly arrested. In the presence of several other negroes, who seemed paralyzed at the nerve of the detective.

Langford made no resistance. All three prisoners will probably be taken to the county prison and held until the inquest, which will be held to-morrow.

Mrs. Meyers, mother of the imprisoned son, who she said did not see Ellen Newton, was called at the intelligence office. It was said to be a desperate character and vicious, lunged at Detective Moore's throat. He was overpowered and promptly arrested. In the presence of several other negroes, who seemed paralyzed at the nerve of the detective.

FOREIGN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Arrest of Members of the Panama Canal Council Ordered.

Mrs. Maybrick, Thought to Be Dying, Still Pleads Her Innocence.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—The Libre Parole today says that M. Bourgeois, Minister of Justice, has ordered the immediate arrest of the members of the Council of the Panama Canal Company who are charged with breach of trust.

The members of the company now under indictment are M. Ferdinand de Lesseps, chairman of the Board of Directors; M. Charles de Lesseps, the Vice-Chairman, and M. Fontanes and Baron Cottu, directors.

It is reported that the autopsy on the body of Helen Fitch, ordered by the Government, was held last night. The result has not been made public.

The New Cabinet. The declaration of the new Ministry was read in the Senate to-day by M. Loubet, Minister of the Interior, and in the Chamber of Deputies by M. Ribot, the Prime Minister.

The declaration recalled the events that caused the recent political crisis, and affirmed the intention of the cabinet to aid the Chamber of Deputies by every means in its power to throw light upon the Panama Canal affair.

Nevertheless, it continued, the cabinet must affirm the principle of separation of the executive, legislative and judicial powers. The Government had decided not to exceed the limits prescribed by the law.

The declaration concluded with a warning to the Chamber of the danger of lending too ready an ear to accusations.

M. Ribot asked the Chamber to devote its attention to reforms in taxation.

ENGLAND AND BIMETALLISM.

Double Standard Party to Be a Potent Factor in Parliament.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The unanimity and fervid enthusiasm displayed at the Agricultural Conference, which met in St. James's Hall here yesterday, in favor of protection and bimetalism, have alike astonished the conservative and liberal.

Every farmers' club and agricultural association in the United Kingdom was represented in the conference.

The bimetallic party will become at once a potent factor in Parliament.

The Times today says it thinks that the best friends of the British agriculturist will read the proceedings of yesterday's conference with deep regret.

Bimetallism, it adds, with protection, is an experiment that no amount of fair words will induce the public to try.

A meeting of the Institute of Bankers, held last evening, Leslie Probyn propounded a scheme for the introduction of the gold standard into India without reducing the silver currency or adding largely to the gold reserve already held.

There is a feeling here against any move being made until it is known what America is doing.

Visitors from Melbourne show that a sharp decline has occurred there in the prices of wheat and wool.

The Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, who was President of the Board of Agriculture in Lord Salisbury's last Cabinet, intends to make a motion in the House of Commons declaring in favor of bimetalism. He hopes to introduce a bill for the purpose.

The House by the larger part of the Irish vote, which has been influenced by the recent statement of Archibald, of Dublin, in favor of bimetalism.

FIRE IN THE HOTEL GERLACH.

It Was Quickly Put Out and Guests Were Not Alarmed.

Several Other Fires During the Night and Early Morning.

At an early hour this morning there was a small blaze in the Gerlach, 55 West Twenty-seventh street. It was so quickly extinguished that hardly any of the guests were aware that there had been an alarm. The fire was on the eighth floor, in a suite of apartments occupied by A. Gerald Hull, a wealthy widower and gentleman of leisure.

Mr. Hull has been living at the Gerlach since last October. The room in which he slept faces towards Sixth avenue. His bed stood near the window.

He was awakened a few minutes before 6 o'clock by smoke. The lace curtain in the window was ablaze. He ran out into the hall shouting "fire!" The servants heard his cries, but the guests were undisturbed.

About the time that Mr. Hull gave the alarm firemen were at the West Fourteenth street station, saw the blaze from Sixth avenue and pulled the fire box corner of Twenty-sixth street, which brought the firemen around.

Proprietor Gerlach had been called by one of the servants. The house is one of the five supposed to be absolutely fire-proof hotels in the city, and Mr. Gerlach feared no danger, as the fire could not spread beyond the room where it started. The reason why it did spread open the windows in Mr. Hull's room to let the smoke out.

One of the firemen downstairs, and told Capt. Croker, of Engine Company 1, that there was a fire. Which could be put out with an extinguisher. As Capt. Croker and his men went upstairs with a fire-extinguisher and the blaze was quickly over.

At 9 o'clock there was a fire in the Gerlach. The fire was on the eighth floor, in a suite of apartments occupied by A. Gerald Hull, a wealthy widower and gentleman of leisure.

Mr. Hull has been living at the Gerlach since last October. The room in which he slept faces towards Sixth avenue. His bed stood near the window.

He was awakened a few minutes before 6 o'clock by smoke. The lace curtain in the window was ablaze. He ran out into the hall shouting "fire!" The servants heard his cries, but the guests were undisturbed.

About the time that Mr. Hull gave the alarm firemen were at the West Fourteenth street station, saw the blaze from Sixth avenue and pulled the fire box corner of Twenty-sixth street, which brought the firemen around.

Proprietor Gerlach had been called by one of the servants. The house is one of the five supposed to be absolutely fire-proof hotels in the city, and Mr. Gerlach feared no danger, as the fire could not spread beyond the room where it started. The reason why it did spread open the windows in Mr. Hull's room to let the smoke out.

One of the firemen downstairs, and told Capt. Croker, of Engine Company 1, that there was a fire. Which could be put out with an extinguisher. As Capt. Croker and his men went upstairs with a fire-extinguisher and the blaze was quickly over.

At 9 o'clock there was a fire in the Gerlach. The fire was on the eighth floor, in a suite of apartments occupied by A. Gerald Hull, a wealthy widower and gentleman of leisure.

Mr. Hull has been living at the Gerlach since last October. The room in which he slept faces towards Sixth avenue. His bed stood near the window.

He was awakened a few minutes before 6 o'clock by smoke. The lace curtain in the window was ablaze. He ran out into the hall shouting "fire!" The servants heard his cries, but the guests were undisturbed.

About the time that Mr. Hull gave the alarm firemen were at the West Fourteenth street station, saw the blaze from Sixth avenue and pulled the fire box corner of Twenty-sixth street, which brought the firemen around.

Proprietor Gerlach had been called by one of the servants. The house is one of the five supposed to be absolutely fire-proof hotels in the city, and Mr. Gerlach feared no danger, as the fire could not spread beyond the room where it started. The reason why it did spread open the windows in Mr. Hull's room to let the smoke out.

One of the firemen downstairs, and told Capt. Croker, of Engine Company 1, that there was a fire. Which could be put out with an extinguisher. As Capt. Croker and his men went upstairs with a fire-extinguisher and the blaze was quickly over.

At 9 o'clock there was a fire in the Gerlach. The fire was on the eighth floor, in a suite of apartments occupied by A. Gerald Hull, a wealthy widower and gentleman of leisure.

Mr. Hull has been living at the Gerlach since last October. The room in which he slept faces towards Sixth avenue. His bed stood near the window.

KILLED BY A SPARK.

Bridge Crowd in Peril from a Falling Electric Light Wire.

A Horse Steps on the Wire and Falls Dead.

The wire was broken by the heavy rain at 10:15 this morning, and dropped to the ground among a crowd of men and girls hurrying to the bridge car.

Just before it fell, the breaking of the wire scattered a shower of electric sparks along a block on each side of Sands street.

There was a panic for a moment, a cry of "fire," and almost miraculously all escaped from under it.

The horse drawing Loew & Weaver's wagon was walking slowly around the corner from Washington to Sands street, Brooklyn.

The wire was broken by the heavy rain at 10:15 this morning, and dropped to the ground among a crowd of men and girls hurrying to the bridge car.

Just before it fell, the breaking of the wire scattered a shower of electric sparks along a block on each side of Sands street.

There was a panic for a moment, a cry of "fire," and almost miraculously all escaped from under it.

The horse drawing Loew & Weaver's wagon was walking slowly around the corner from Washington to Sands street, Brooklyn.

The wire was broken by the heavy rain at 10:15 this morning, and dropped to the ground among a crowd of men and girls hurrying to the bridge car.

Just before it fell, the breaking of the wire scattered a shower of electric sparks along a block on each side of Sands street.

There was a panic for a moment, a cry of "fire," and almost miraculously all escaped from under it.

The horse drawing Loew & Weaver's wagon was walking slowly around the corner from Washington to Sands street, Brooklyn.

The wire was broken by the heavy rain at 10:15 this morning, and dropped to the ground among a crowd of men and girls hurrying to the bridge car.

Just before it fell, the breaking of the wire scattered a shower of electric sparks along a block on each side of Sands street.

There was a panic for a moment, a cry of "fire," and almost miraculously all escaped from under it.

The horse drawing Loew & Weaver's wagon was walking slowly around the corner from Washington to Sands street, Brooklyn.

The wire was broken by the heavy rain at 10:15 this morning, and dropped to the ground among a crowd of men and girls hurrying to the bridge car.

Just before it fell, the breaking of the wire scattered a shower of electric sparks along a block on each side of Sands street.

There was a panic for a moment, a cry of "fire," and almost miraculously all escaped from under it.

The horse drawing Loew & Weaver's wagon was walking slowly around the corner from Washington to Sands street, Brooklyn.

ILLINOIS CONVICTS IN REVOLT.

They Object to Doing Extra Work, but Are Forced into Submission.

St. Louis, Dec. 8.—Nearly a hundred convicts in the Chicago Jail.

St. Louis, Dec. 8.—Nearly a hundred convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

The convicts in the Chicago Jail. They objected to doing extra work, but were forced into submission.

WERNER GETS A WRIT.

Warden Brown to Show Cause for Not Releasing Him.

A writ of habeas corpus was granted by Justice Pratt in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

A writ of habeas corpus was granted by Justice Pratt in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn. The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

The writ was granted to Werner, who was held in the County Jail.

SEVERAL PEOPLE KILLED.

Railroad Smash-Up at Noon To-Day at Greenville, N. J.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

Information has just been received at Police Headquarters at Jersey City that an accident occurred at noon on the Jersey Central Railroad at Greenville.

DAILEY GETS ONE YEAR.

The Roundman Goes to the Penitentiary for the Hennessey Assault.

Justice Russell this morning the Court of Oyer and Terminer sentenced Roundman.

Justice Russell this morning the Court of Oyer and Terminer sentenced Roundman. The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.

The sentence was one year in the penitentiary.